Service Beyond Self

In the aftermath of the September 11, 2001, Arizona Cardinals safety Pat Tillman played out the 2001 NFL season, and did what most people would never consider...he turned down his next contract offer, and enlisted with the US Army.

In April 2004, he died in Afghanistan in a friendly-fire incident.

Pat Tillman did what countless other military heroes have done: He set aside his career, his dreams, his family, and ultimately, his life to fight for the freedom and well-being of the rest of us.

We celebrate and honor America's veterans.
