

Bricks used for art? Yes, it's true...

The design concept of the building for the Association of the Northwest German Textile and Garment Industry aims to provide all employees with a view of the picturesque landscape to the north and to welcome those arriving from the south with a strong textile image.

The architect employs six special bricks with a gradient that increases in gradient, creating a seemingly moving facade of light and shadow. The analogy to a light cloth over which the wind blows arises. The craftsmanship and the effect are simply stunning! CLICK HERE to read more!

Cut Outs with a Cause!

The Philadelphia Phillies are packing in about 10,000 cutouts for every game at Citizens Bank Park. These cutouts have raised somewhere between $250,000 and $500,000 for Phillies charities. From dogs and cats...to players from the 1980 World-Series team...the Phanatic is still having fun out there with these "fans!" CLICK HERE to read more.
